

Please reconsider the support of LPFM services. SOME translator services play a VERY IMPORTANT ROLE in their specific type of programming. While many faith based items have recently come under fire by the ACLU and other special interests groups, This is something that could be very damaging to faith-based stations such as KLOVE and HIS Radio. I listen to both of these stations regularly and feel that to lose them as a regular broadcast entity would result in yet one more shot against what this country was founded on: religious freedom. If you are a Christian, then you know what I am talking about! Please think seriously about this before making a decision and may God be with you as this effort continues. Thank you.
